

A co-production approach to implementing the autism strategy

What do autistic people need to live a good life?

Best practice: Co-production from the start

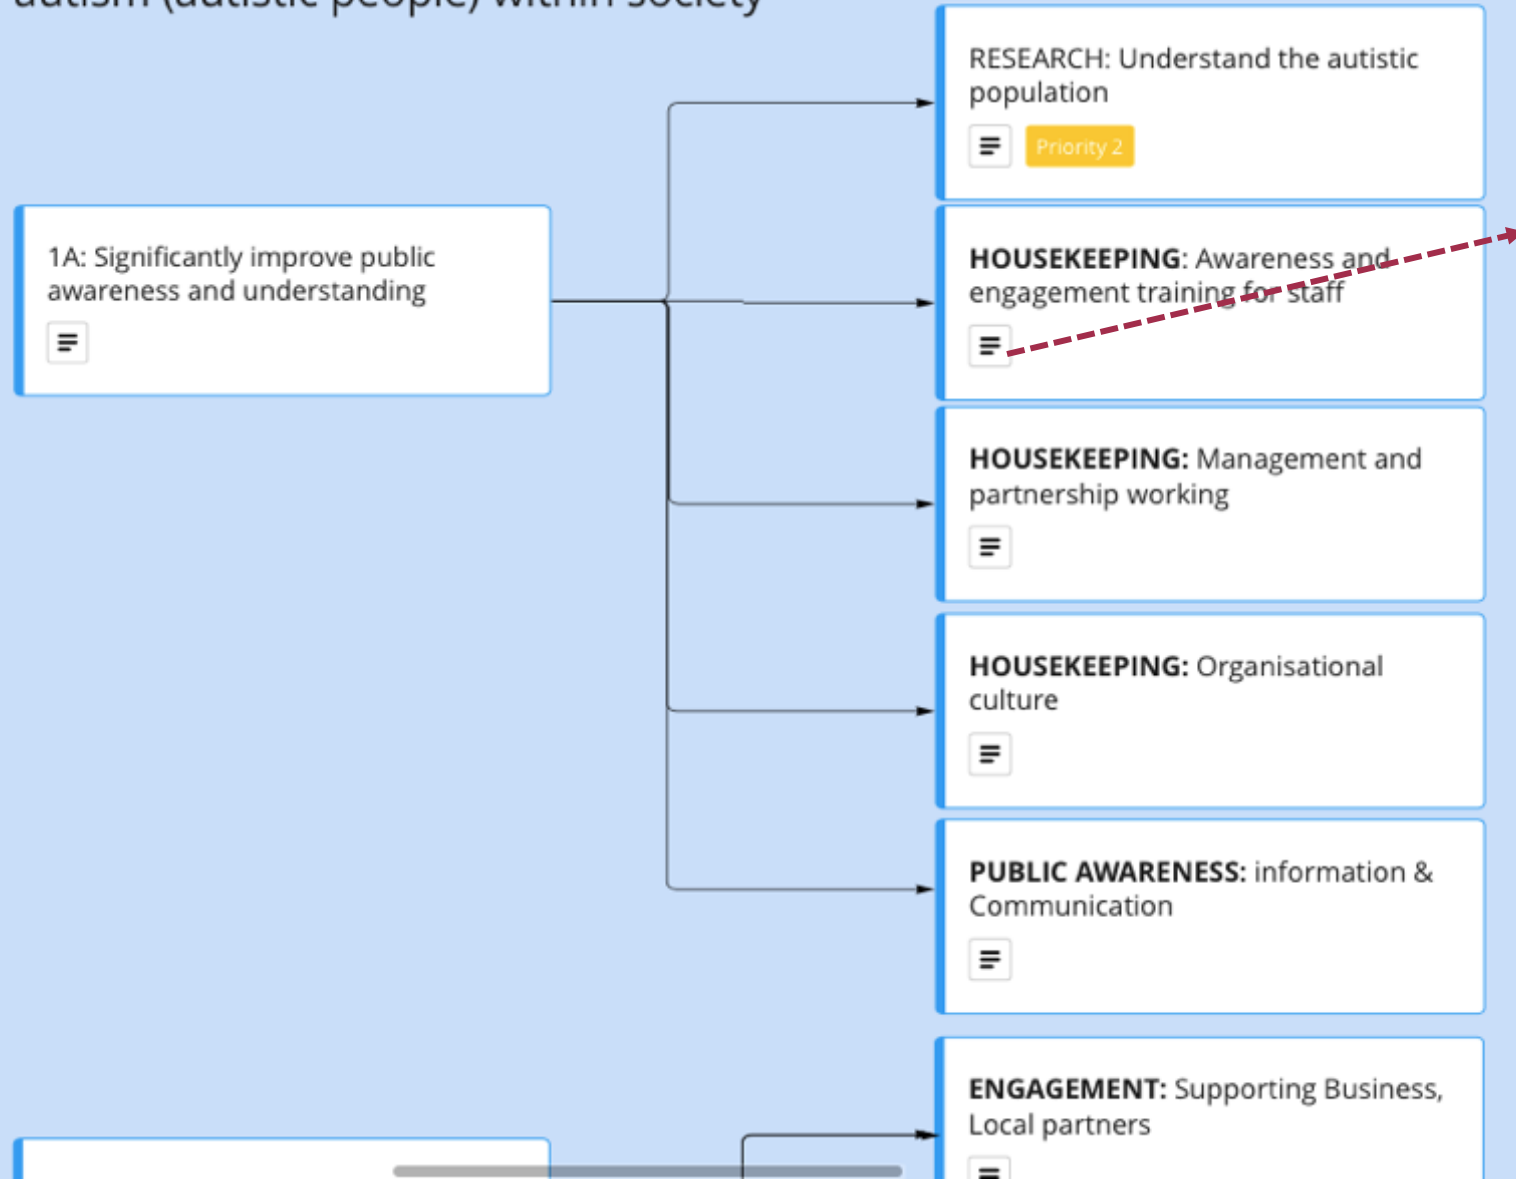

What have we done so far?

<https://miro.com/app/board/uXjVO6dI7cE=/>

THEME 1:

Improving understanding and acceptance of autism (autistic people) within society

HOUSEKEEPING: Awareness and engagement training for staff

How do you ensure that staff are confident and knowledgeable about autism and how to support autistic people?

Training development

- How are autistic people, carers and families meaningfully involved in the development and delivery of training?
- What are your methods for identifying their outcomes and impact of learning and development for:
 - health staff
 - social care staff
 - children's services staff?
- Is the planning and delivery of your autism training fully co-produced as defined and required by the 'Right to be heard: government response to the consultation on learning disability and autism training for health and care staff' (November 2019)?

Strategy

Does learning and development meet the standards outlined in the 'Core Capabilities Framework for Supporting Autistic People'?

- Does your learning and development plan cover staff that work in all services that autistic people might use?
- How do you ensure that learning and development is kept up-to-date in line with current standards, policy and best practice?

MENU

Color

Status

Tags

Assignee

Dates

ACTIONS

Copy Link

Delete

Our working principles

1

Autistic people first

2

Embrace diversity

3

Influence across the system

4

Connect the dots

5

Be practical, timely, scalable

6

Be brave

Key priorities for action

Education & Training

Leadership & Governance

Early Intervention & Prevention

Supporting Transitions

Systemising best practice: 6 month pilot

1. Does it meet need of autistic community?
2. Is there evidence of impact?
3. Does it open up access for autistic people?
4. Is it practical and scalable?

What next?

Mid November 2022

Share strategy toolkit & working group outputs (ADASS website)

(End 2022)

Top tips and best practice guide

Nov 22- March 23

Pilot programme for best practice dissemination (1-2 regions)

Thank You

Questions?

Connor Ward: Autistic consultant

Tamsin Fielden: Brain in Hand
Director

tamsinfielden@braininhand.co.uk